

Chiefs:

I have attached three documents that we are requesting your assistance with. TteS, SFN and JBC would greatly appreciate it if you would kindly circulate these documents to all the bands that are affiliated with your organization. We require these forms for negotiation purposes only. It is vital that the day scholars , their descendants and band members identify themselves as soon as possible . We encourage a proactive mode so that in the future we can have a prompt process when have obtained an settlement .

Tk'émúlps te Secwépemc, Sechelt and James Bay Cree are all equal partners in the Certified Day Scholar Class action We have agreed to enter into negotiations with the Government of Canada as a result we asking the bands to identify the following in each nation:

Day Scholars ( a person who attended a Federally owned and operated residential school during the day and returned home every night) this process for your nations should be fairly easy as it will be the children of Evelyn Paul .

Descendants: the children (son or daughter of the day scholar only) natural ,legally adopted or traditionally adopted by ceremony

Band class : a band with a residential school on or near their lands and they must have had day scholars. We require the total amount of your membership.

For your convenience I attached the forms that we require bands to fill out please not that these forms are for negotiation purpose only itâ€™s not a formal application for compensation.

If you require further information please feel free to contact me.

The day scholar forms will be used for our negations data only and are not considered as an application for settlement.

We would greatly appreciate your assistance in sending this information to all your contact as soon as possible. no later than November 30,2016.

Respectfully- Jo-Anne

Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc

shíshálh Nation

Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc and the shíshálh Nation are pleased to announce that we are a certified day scholar class action which has strong support all across Canada. 94 separate bands have come forward to be included in the lawsuit representing every province where an Indian Residential School was located.

Launched in 2012 by the Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc and shíshálh Indian Bands, the Day Scholars Class Action lawsuit seeks compensation on behalf of all Aboriginal Canadians who attended an Indian Residential School, but who did not sleep there. The two Bands also seek declarations regarding Canada's role in the failure to protect Aboriginal language and culture, and looks for compensation for the children of survivors, and the bands to which survivors belong.

Canada has, for several years now, recognized and admitted that the Indian Residential Schools had a profound impact not just on those who resided at the schools, but also on their communities and families. This lawsuit aims ensure that every day scholar, their descendents and the 94 Bands that opted into our class action obtain compensation more importantly justice.

Currently no formal application process is in place however, the Ttes and SN Day Scholar Executive are requesting each band to start their own data base which will help determine the number of day scholars and their descendents there are within their own nation as well as across Canada. We are requesting each nation to do their own research and provide us the information by July 30,2016. For your convenience we have attached a guide line that may be helpful in your research.

Ttes and SN will continue to move the lawsuit forward, while continuing to reach out to Canada in hopes of reaching a true reconciliation.
