COMMUNITY UPDATE ON STATUS OF LAWSUIT FILED AGAINST AAMJIWNAANG

Chief and Council would like to inform the community regarding the status of a lawsuit brought by Leslie Peters against Aamjiwnaang First Nation.

The claim, filed in Ontario Superior Court on July 9, 2020, seeks at least $21.5 million in damages for alleged interference with economic relations by Aamjiwnaang First Nation in preventing Ms. Peters from developing a business on River Road. It should be noted the allegations in the claim have not been tested in court.

In response to the Claim, Aamjiwnaang Chief and Council retained the legal services of Nahwegahbow Corbiere and a Notice of Intent to Defend was filed on followed by a Statement of Defence.

Upon filing the Statement of Defence it was discovered that Nahwegahbow Corbiere may be in a potential conflict of interest based on previous representation of the Plaintiff. In order to proceed in an expedited manner and to ensure Aamjiwnaang First Nation's legal interests were fully represented it was agreed that Aamjiwnaang would seek alternative legal representation.

Chief and Council have since met with Brian Gover from Stockwoods LLP, to engage his services. Mr. Gover will be representing Aamjiwnaang First Nation in the above noted claim going forward.

At this time the parties to the lawsuit are awaiting next steps to set out a schedule for the exchange of evidence and examination of witnesses.

Chief and Council will provide continuing information to community members on the status of the lawsuit as they become available.

Miigwetch,

Chief and Council

And introducing to the Community....

We would like to extend a warm welcome to our new Band Manager and Finance Coordinator.

Micheal Lascelles - Band Manager

I'm registered at Eelünaapéewi Lahkéewiit but spent my high school years with my (late) Aunt Ruby Plain while attending SCITS

I went to Western University for Sociology

Have worked as a manager for First Nation bands and corporations in QC, SK, and BC for 10+ years

Am happy to be reunited with family and friends at Aamjiwnaang

Natasha Montano - Finance Coordinator

My name is Natasha Montano, I am a proud Aamjiwnaang member. After working with Aamjiwnaang for ten years in the Finance department, I left in 2017 to accept a position as Finance Administrator with the Southern First Nations Secretariat. The experience and skills that I gained during my time with SFNS were invaluable but home is where the heart is and I am happy to be back in the community as Finance Coordinator.

And an Update From Shell....

Hello,

I'm sharing the following media statement on behalf of Shell Canada:

Tara Lemay

Media Relations Manager

Shell Canada Limited

400 4th Avenue S.W., P.O. Box 100 Station M, Calgary, Alberta T2P 2H5, Canada

We have decided to stop actively marketing the Sarnia Manufacturing Centre and its associated infrastructure which includes the refinery, chemicals plant, Sarnia and Hamilton Distribution terminals, and Shell's 45% interest in Sun-Canadian Pipeline. Shell will continue to operate these assets while maintaining our marketing presence in Ontario and continuing to honour branded supply and wholesale agreements.

When we first announced our intention to divest in January of 2019, we stated it was to be a value-driven process rather than time-driven. Should we receive interest at a later date, we will assess next steps.

We thank the staff and contractors at Sarnia Manufacturing Centre and the terminals. Despite uncertainty for nearly two years, they remained steadfastly focused on operating safely and reliably. The professionalism and performance of the teams has been outstanding. We will operate business as usual with a continued focus on safe and reliable operations and strong financial delivery.

Kind regards,

Tara

Your child is sick. Now what?

Children develop symptoms for many different reasons. Some children have underlying medical issues that present symptoms (i.e. seasonal allergies, asthma, etc.). The overlap between COVID-19 symptoms and other common illnesses like colds and flu means that many people with symptoms of COVID-19 may actually be ill with something else.

If your child develops symptoms at home or is sent home from child care/school due to symptoms, take the following steps.

STEP 1: Seek immediate care for severe illness

If your child is in distress (i.e. significant trouble breathing, chest pain, fainting, or have a significant worsening of any chronic disease symptoms), do not go to a testing centre. Call 9-1-1 or go to the nearest Emergency Department. Be sure to follow up with your primary care provider.

STEP 2: Check if symptoms are possibly due to COVID-19-

Use the on-line Ontario COVID-19 school screening tool: covid-19.ontario.ca/school-screening/ or answer the questions below.

1. Does your child have any of the following new or worsening symptoms? Symptoms should not be chronic or related to other known causes or conditions.

- Fever and/or chills (temperature of 37.8°C/100.0°F or greater)
- Cough (more than usual if chronic cough) including croup (barking cough, making a whistling noise when breathing) Not related to other known causes or conditions (e.g., asthma, reactive airway)
- Shortness of breath (dyspnea, out of breath, unable to breathe deeply, wheeze, that is worse than usual if chronically short of breath) Not related to other known causes or conditions (e.g., asthma)
- Decrease or loss of smell or taste (new olfactory or taste disorder) Not related to other known causes or conditions (e.g., nasal polyps, allergies, neurological disorders)

2. Does your child have any of the following new or worsening symptoms? Symptoms should not be chronic or related to other known causes or conditions.

- Sore throat (painful swallowing or difficulty swallowing) Not related to other known causes or conditions (e.g., post nasal drip, gastroesophageal reflux)
- Stuffy nose and/or runny nose (nasal congestion and/or rhinorrhea) Not related to other known causes or conditions (e.g., seasonal allergies, returning inside from the cold, chronic sinusitis unchanged from baseline, reactive airways)

- Headache that is new and persistent, unusual, unexplained, or long-lasting Not related to other known causes or conditions (e.g., tension-type headaches, chronic migraines)
- Nausea, vomiting and/or diarrhea Not related to other known causes or conditions (e.g. transient vomiting due to anxiety in children, chronic vestibular dysfunction, irritable bowel syndrome, inflammatory bowel disease, side effect of medication)
- Fatigue, lethargy, muscle aches or malaise (general feeling of being unwell, lack of energy, extreme tiredness, poor feeding in infants) that is unusual or unexplained Not related to other known causes or conditions (e.g., depression, insomnia, thyroid dysfunction, anemia)

Results of Screening Questions:

If you answered “YES” to any of the symptoms included under question 1

- Your child should stay home to isolate immediately
- Contact your child’s health care provider for further advice or assessment, including if your child needs a COVID-19 test or other treatment.

If you answered “YES” to only one of the symptoms included under question 2

- Your child should stay home for 24 hours from when the symptom started.
- If the symptom is improving, your child may return to school/child care when they feel well enough to do so. A negative COVID-19 test is not required to return.
- If the symptom persists or worsens, contact your child’s health care provider for further advice or assessment, including if your child needs a COVID-19 test or other treatment.

If you answered “YES” to two or more of the symptoms included under question 2:

- Your child should stay home to isolate immediately.
- Contact your child’s health care provider for further advice or assessment, including if your child needs a COVID-19 test or other treatment.

If the symptoms are due to common allergies or another underlying condition, consider contacting your health care provider for possible documentation to support the discussion with your child care provider/school.

Learn more about COVID-19 self-assessment.

STEP 3: Decide if you will get your child tested for COVID-19

- Toddlers or preschoolers - If your child has COVID-19 symptoms that are not due to underlying conditions, visit a local public COVID-19 Assessment Centre.
- School-aged children - If your child has COVID-19 symptoms that are not due to underlying conditions, call Lambton Public Health at 519-383-8331 to book an appointment at a dedicated COVID-19 School Testing Centre.

If you choose not to get your child tested and they have one of the symptoms listed in question 1 or two or more from question 2 (listed on page 1), monitor the symptoms and your child must self-isolate for 14 days. Your child can return to child care/school following that time period if they are feeling generally well and have no remaining symptoms.

STEP 4: Monitor symptoms and self-isolate while waiting for results

While waiting for test results your child must be isolated:

- Stay home – do not leave your home or attend child care/school, social events or any other public gatherings.
- Avoid close contact between the child and others in your household if possible
- If school aged, your child can attend school virtually, if feeling well enough to participate and the option is available.
- Other members of the household do not need to self-isolate unless showing symptoms or advised to do so by a health-care provider.

STEP 5: Check results and complete isolation as directed covid-19.ontario.ca - visit the provincial website to access results. Test results are typically available in 2-4 days, but may take longer if testing volumes are high. If you are unable to access this website or do not have a health card number please call Lambton Public Health.

If your child tests positive for COVID-19:

- Lambton Public Health will call you and provide information about the length of isolation required and further direction on returning to child care/school.
- All household members and close contacts of a person who tests positive for COVID-19 will be contacted by Lambton Public Health and required to stay home and self-isolate for a minimum of 14 days.
- If school aged, your child can attend school virtually, if feeling well enough to participate and the option is available.

If your child is negative for COVID-19:

- They can return to child care/school when symptom-free for at least 24 hours (48 hours for gastrointestinal symptoms)

If your child is ill due to another reason diagnosed by a health care provider and does not have COVID-19:

- They can return to child care/school when symptom-free for at least 24 hours (48 hours for gastrointestinal symptoms) or as directed by the health care provider.

Note: Lambton Public Health is not requesting child care operators/schools to require a doctor's note for a child to return to child care/school.

Additional tips for caring for your child during isolation

- Try to have one person only care for the sick child so others are not exposed.
 - If your child can wear a face mask or cloth face covering without finding it hard to breathe, have them wear one when the caregiver is in the room. Don't leave your child alone while they're wearing a mask or cloth face covering. The caregiver also should wear one when in the same room.
 - If possible, have your sick child use a different bathroom from others. If that isn't possible, clean the bathroom often, especially after use by the ill child.
 - Everyone in your family should wash their hands frequently. Wash with soap and water for at least 20 seconds, or use alcohol-based hand sanitizer.
 - Use regular household cleaners or wipes to clean things that get touched a lot (doorknobs, light switches, toys, remote controls, phones, etc.). Do this every day.

CIRCLE AAMJIWNAANG 2020

This year will be a bit different...

Keeping in line with our usual format, we'd like for you to take a selfie or group photo holding candles by a backyard fire or in your home and submit it to the Health Centre by text, email or Facebook. We plan to create a collage of the photos to illustrate our Aamjiwnaang unity. We will be at Maawn Doosh Gumig Pavilion where you will have an opportunity to offer tobacco at the fire and to pick up commemorative toques or gloves. Of course, we'll be socially distancing and our stay will be limited to the pick-up of items and offering of tobacco.

Miigwech. Take care.

The Beginning of Circle Aamjiwnaang

Circle Aamjiwnaang began in October 2016, and was established by the Health Centre's Lateral Violence committee. Our committee was formed as a result of the findings from the Community Wellness Development Focus Groups in which lateral violence was identified as one of the top priorities for our staff and community members to address. These focus groups consisted of community members and staff. They were facilitated by the Southwestern Ontario Community Wellness Development Team which was formed provincially in response to the opiate addiction crisis across Ontario.

The Anishinaabe tradition of "oneness with the universe" and each other along with the following quote became our focus, "Our belief that we are spiritual beings is reflected in the way we strive to live in harmony and balance; we seek kinship with all of Creation. We hold certain values sacred and endeavor to live by these values at all times." To promote this tradition, we came up the idea of gathering our community for the simple reason of being together in harmony; to be reminded we are with each other and for each other; to focus on our strengths and abilities, to celebrate each other, and our community together. Being together, face to face puts kindness at the forefront. When we promote kindness and positivity we are less likely to fight with each other. "Infighting" is a marker of a community experiencing lateral violence. We wanted to take a stand against lateral violence by celebrating our many strengths and focusing on positivity. When we focus on appreciating and accepting our community together, it becomes easier to appreciate and accept each other. Circle Aamjiwnaang is an opportunity for us as a community to create ripples of this appreciation.

Our committee also focused on the following quotes by Rod Jeffries and Jane Middleton-Moz in our attempts to better understand the issue.

“Lateral violence has impacted our indigenous peoples throughout the world to the point of where we harm each other in our communities and workplaces on a daily basis.”

- Rod Jeffries

“When a powerful oppressor has directed oppression against a group for a period of time, members of the oppressed group feel powerless to fight back and they eventually turn their anger against each other.” - Jane Middleton-Moz

The Circle Aamjiwnaang event has it's own logo and traditions which carry meaning. The logo is the medicine wheel, the 7 Grandfather Teachings and the peace sign. It represents what we promote at our annual event. The sweaters and t-shirts and other promotional items carry this message and remind us to live up to our teachings of living in harmony with each other. The fire of Circle Aamjiwnaang is sacred. The candles we hold in unison reflect the light we want to share with each other and also in remembrance of our shared losses. Circle Aamjiwnaang is a celebration of oneness and unity; a celebration of Love, Respect, Truth, Humility, Bravery, Wisdom and Honesty. Together.

Meet Shell Manufacturing Centre's New GM

Pauline Buitink has joined the Shell Manufacturing Site as the new General Manager. She joins us from the Netherlands where she has lived most of her life. Pauline has worked for Shell for over 25 years, starting as a process engineer and advancing her way to her current role.

In her new role as general manager, Buitink looks forward to building on the good things already in place at the Shell Manufacturing Centre, further improving the site where possible, and being a part of the transition to moving to a cleaner fuel. She wants to get the best results for the site, the people working at SMC, and for the community.
